ANXIOUS TO ENTER

Washington to Take New York's Place in the American Association.

And From the League Which Will Not be Accepted—Racing Events—Meeting of the Browns' Reception Committee To-Night—Diamond Dust—Sporting Sundries.

Washington is very anxious to be in the American Association next year, and within the past two weeks has gained a friend who will no doubt endorse it as a city worthy of recognition. This friend is Christ Von der Ahe, who has spent several weeks in Washington and made a careful investigation of the base ball feeling that exists there. The best class of society takes great interest in the national game and there is a large attendance on every occasion when two good clubs are scheduled for a game. In the two games between the Browns and the Nationals the total attendance amounted to a little over 8,000. In both games the president of the champions received one half of the receipts, including those of the grand stand. The wealthy citizens of Washington are among the best patrons of the game, and for this reason the League managers have an idea that it would be a good racing town, as those who go to witness the games are fully able to pay fifty cents to see them. Those who are engaged in the base ball business in that city, however, prefer to join the American Association in preference to the League. They have already expressed a desire to take the Metropolitan place in the association, and if Boston or Chicago is not taken in the fold their application will probably receive favorable consideration.

Louisville Races. The attendance at the races yesterday was very good and the weather was all that could be desired. In the first race Glenlock threw his rider, N. James, and in consequence Quastrell was thrown from Valder and forced Pearl Jennings out of the race, and in the second race Ida Hope broke a blood vessel. Thewinners were as follows:

First race, dash of three-quarters of a mile, all ages—Monogram first, Hermine second. Time, 1:16 1/2.
Second race, selling race, mile heats—First heat, Ida Hope, first; Warrington second. Second heat, Virgo Hearn first, Warrington second. Ida Hope distanced. Time, 1:41 1/2.
Third race, turf stables for all ages, nine furlongs, Hazardus won, Editor second. Time, 1:50 1/4.
Fourth race, for 2-year-olds five furlongs; Societa first, Belle of Louisville second.
Fifth race, dash for all ages, one mile and a quarter. Foxhatten first, Glendale second. Time, 2:13 1/4.

The Browns' Reception. The general committee appointed to arrange for the reception of the Browns will hold their first meeting this evening at the Lillard. The committee is composed of the following gentlemen: C. F. Smythe, John Fisher, Lew Harper, Fred Schmieding, T. E. Cooke, Charles E. Ware, Michael Heller, Prof. Musgrave, John F. Mayer, Alex. Mastbrook, and J. A. S. John. This committee will have important business to transact this evening, and it is necessary that every member should be present. The Browns will be home in about three weeks, so that very little time remains to prepare for their reception. It is a great deal to do, to make the affair a success, which is already assured, as the members of every committee are Mr. Mayne has had considerable back of late, losing nearly all of his cattle from Texas fever; Wm. Overbeck, living near St. Paul, has lost about twenty-five; John Haddenroder, living two miles south of here, lost thirteen; Mr. Kinsinger of Ballwin has lost a good many; the Dahl of Manchester lost about ten. He got some medicine through Louis Holloway, he having an old prescription. Mr. Dependahl says the medicine has cured the rest. Henry Ricks, living about two miles south of here, has lost a cow and a head. He was the first to lose any with the plague. Louis Wagner, living here, has some sick but has lost none yet.

Sheephead Bay. Yesterday was an extra day and the last of the season. The winners were as follows:

First race, for all ages, seven furlongs, Deoxy Duck first; Pompadour second. Time, 1:39 1/4.
Second race, for 2-year-olds, three-quarters of a mile, Inspector B. first; Biggusette second. Time, 1:17.
Third race, for 3-year-olds and upwards, one mile and an eighth, Tom Martin won; Long Knight second. Time, 1:38.
Fourth race, for 3-year-olds, one mile and three-eighths, Greenfield first; Unrest second. Time, 2:34.
Fifth race, for 3-year-olds and upwards, one mile and a quarter, Freedom first; Sorenson Pat second. Time, 2:19 1/4.
Sixth race, for non-winners of $500 during the season, nine furlongs, Louwver, first; Parole and Yarra. Yarra run dead heat for second place. Time, 2:00 1/4.

Christol's Chance. Tom Kelly says in an answer to Andre Christol's wrestling challenge, in a morning paper, that he can accomplish what he desires. Tom has an opponent, whom he will back against Christol for a Greco-Roman match, for any amount from $25 to $100. Kelly wants the match to be a private one, and to be a fair and square test of the two men's merits. If Christol is anxious for a match, he can find man and money at Kelly's place, on Market street, whenever he wishes to call.

An Exhibition Game. The Boston and Providence teams played an exhibition game at Bloomington, Ill., yesterday to an audience of 1,000 people. Providence won by a score of 7 to 1. McCarty, the new pitcher from Des Moines, was substituted for Sadbourne and played a very effective game. He will pitch in the Chicago series.

Won By the Regulars. Three teams of twelve men each, from the Regular Army, Pennsylvania State Militia and New York State Militia, contended for the Hittor Trophy at Creedmoor yesterday. The shooting was at 300, 400 and 600 yards, seven shots at each distance. The Regulars won, with a score of 997 out of a possible 1,000 points; New York, 838; Pennsylvania, 807.

Downed by the Browns. The feature of yesterday's game between the Nationals of Washington and the St. Louis Browns, at Washington, were splendid fielding and heavy batting. Both Fouts and Barr were pounded for fifteen. The score was, Browns 7; Nationals 2.

To-Morrow's Game. The Boston and the St. Louis League team play another championship game at the Union Grounds to-morrow afternoon, with Buffington and Haggett and Boyie and Haddenroder the trial battery. They will be called at 3:45.

A New Record. Richard Howell, after repeated trials at the Hampden Park track at Springfield, Mass., yesterday succeeded in beating Fred Woods' world record for one mile of 1:35 1/5 by 1/5 of a second. John Brooks of Pennsylvania made the pace for time.

Base-Ball Elsewhere. At Philadelphia, Athletics, 11; Louisvilles, 6. At St. Paul, New Yorks, 12; Buffaloes, 6. At Brooklyn, Brooklyn 6; Cincinnati, 2.

Diamond Dust. The Browns meet the Metropolitans in New York to-day. Curt Welch maintains his reputation as the king of diamond dust. There will be a game at Union Park every day this week except on Friday. Manager Watkins of the Detroit Club denies any connection with the Dunlap matter. The committee appointed to arrange for the reception of the Browns are working like beavers. Here is a tip: There is no truth in the rumor that Comiskey and Latham will not play with the Browns next year.

Little Wood has two games for the Browns within the past two weeks by hitting the ball at the proper time for a safe hit.

In yesterday's game with the Nationals Bushong's playing plainly demonstrated that his fingers were in good condition.

The Standard Base Ball team of St. Louis defeated the Washington Eagles in Washington, N. C., yesterday. The score was Standards 9, Washingtons 1.

Bresler, of the Greeley-Burham Greener Company nine, and O'Leary, of the Centrais, have signed with the Riverbirds of Memphis, and leave for that city on Saturday.

The Grattans defeated the Little Welchens Sunday at Compton and Chouteau avenues by a score of 25 to 1. The feature of the game was the pitching of Quibell of the Grattans, striking out twenty-one men.

The Gate City Club of Denison, Tex., and the Clippers of Sherman, Tex., played a game yesterday at Denison for the championship of North Texas and a silver bat. The Gate Citys won by a score of 20 to 13.

The Pickets won two victories Sunday, defeating the Elbars in the morning by a score of 13 to 7, and the Cote Brillantes in the afternoon for a score of 33 to 4 in a six inning game. The feature of the games was the heavy work of Hood and Baber. They would like to hear from the Little Pickets. Address all challenges to Nelson Fine, 4133 Easton avenue.

At Rock Springs. Rock Springs, September 20.—Now that Monday the threat of Superintendent D. O. Clark that all white miners who did not resume work on Monday would be placed on the black list but very few went to work yesterday. The Chinese began work and mined five cars of coal, but no one could be found to run the hoisting works, and the coal is still in the mine. It is understood that the company has sent elsewhere for engineers and topmen, but the strikers hope to dissuade them from going to work. The prediction now made is that a general strike all along the Union Pacific will be ordered within two or three days.

Chinese Burned Out. SEATTLE, WASH. T., September 22.—A body of masked men killed the quarters of the Chinese workmen at the Black Diamond Mine Sunday night. The Chinese fled. Their houses were burned. The Chinamen had been discharged from the mine and expected to go to Seattle yesterday. A convention of delegates from all parts of the Puget Sound country has been called to meet here on September 28 to devise means of ridding the country of Chinese.

Oregon Ousts Them. PORTLAND, ORE., September 22.—News has just been received from Huntington, Ore., giving the particulars of a serious disturbance between the Chinese and the whites. An attack was made in the Chinese quarter at night and revolvers were freely used, though fortunately no one was hurt. The Chinese vacated the town promptly. There is an intense feeling against them, and the feeling is that they must go.

THE HOG CHOLERA. Farmers Near Ballwin, Mo., Suffering Heavy Losses by the Plague. By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.

BALLWIN, MO., September 22.—There is a kind of cholera which has been killing off the hogs in this section for some time past and is getting serious, as it is spreading considerably. Mr. Mayne, living about one mile west of here, lost fourteen. One of them, a white one, died Sunday. Mr. Mayne has had considerable back of late, losing nearly all of his cattle from Texas fever; Wm. Overbeck, living near St. Paul, has lost about twenty-five; John Haddenroder, living two miles south of here, lost thirteen; Mr. Kinsinger of Ballwin has lost a good many; the Dahl of Manchester lost about ten. He got some medicine through Louis Holloway, he having an old prescription. Mr. Dependahl says the medicine has cured the rest. Henry Ricks, living about two miles south of here, has lost a cow and a head. He was the first to lose any with the plague. Louis Wagner, living here, has some sick but has lost none yet.

THE LAS CRUCES SILVER MINES. Reports Confirming the Seizure of the Mines by Mexican Troops. GALVESTON, TEXAS, September 22.—A special to the News from Elize Pass says: "Reports have reached here confirming the confiscation of the Las Cruces Silver Mines in the Carmen Mountains, Mexico, by Mexican troops upon a trumped up claim of a Mexican sergeant, antedating the claims of Owens, Stappho, Davis and other Americans. The sergeant produced his alleged claim and the Mexican soldiers disposed of the silver to the Americans and took possession. These are the mines whose discovery about six months ago led to much excitement as they yielded 100,000 ounces of silver to the United States. The chances are against the American owners regaining possession, after the Mexicans have taken the mines. The United States Consul at Progreso, at Progreso, is interesting himself in behalf of the American claimants with the hope of restoring them to the mines."

RELIGIOUS EXCITEMENT. A Female Evangelist's Converts Go Into Trances at Muncie, Ind.

MUNCIE, IND., September 22.—Mrs. Woodworth, the evangelist, closed a two weeks' meeting in a grove two miles northwest of here yesterday, preaching to 25,000 people. Such religious excitement was never known here. The woods rang with the shouts of the new converts, who here and there lay men, and women by scores. Thousands apparently dead. Hundreds of people from the city and vicinity came to witness the scene and to see what they saw.

A FATAL QUARREL. The Arkansas Supreme Judgeship—Attorney-General Garland. By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.

LEWIS ROCK, ARK., September 22.—Henry Warren, colored, who was struck on the head by Alex. Williams, also colored, in a fight yesterday, on the steamboat Peerless, died this morning. Williams was jailed. Judge F. W. Compton is being urged to accept a candidate for Supreme Judge. Attorney-General Garland is expected to return to Washington by October 1.

MURDERED HIS YOUNG WIFE. The Terrible Crime of a School Teacher at Lancaster, Wis.

LANCASTER, WIS., September 22.—Mark W. Townsend, 32 years old, a schoolteacher residing at Lancaster, seven miles south of this city, shot and killed his wife yesterday afternoon. She was 20 years old. After shooting Townsend took his baby in his arms, and walking some distance to the village gave himself up to Justice Keane. No affixation of the affair has been given.

FIAR MILL BURNED. By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.

PERIA, ILL., September 22.—James H. Wheeler's flour mill at Lewistown, Ill., burned last night. Loss $70,000; insurance $10,000. The fire originated in the top story.

HE WAS A COACHMAN. A Tramp Makes Love to and Marries His Wealthy Benefactress.

HENNEVER, N. T., September 22.—A coachman in this quiet little town are accused, over the marriage of Miss Catherine Jones to A. W. Currier. The story of the courtship is not without romantic associations. The groom has for several months been a servant in Miss Jones' household and came there under peculiar circumstances. Last spring Currier, who, while not handsome, was a very intelligent man, and is something of an artist in chalk drawings, came here and exhibited his skill on the flagging and porticoes of public places. The little attention was paid to him as he was considered to be a tramp. He obtained permission from John Pettit to sleep in his barn. One day a few days the latter became suspicious and ordered him away. Instead of leaving the village he made a living by doing chores, digging graves and cellars. He tried to carry the hod, but not being of an agile turn, he was discomfited. He took the tavern and amused the frequenters by his humorous sketches. It was at one of the family gatherings that Currier met Miss Jones, who being a gentleman of leisure, and taking his benefactor's ear the artist poured the history of his life's sufferings. They were much for the kind-hearted man and he took Currier home, provided him with a room. In the game and substantial clothing and engaged him as a coachman for his sister. In a short time he became overman in general and Miss Jones to the door of the fashionable dwellings when visiting, and waited to escort her home again. Currier continued to talk, as it became twilight, was between the two. Jones who, in several years his sister's senior, was not observant, and only realized the situation when it was too late. He resented the assertion, but hurried home, and although it was midnight, he called his sister to her room and demanded to know if there was any truth in the rumor of her matrimonial intentions. Currier was so overcome by the anger of his sister that he followed a dramatic course. Currier was quite small and about 30 years of age. Currier is quite small and about 30 years of age. Currier is quite small and about 30 years of age. Currier is quite small and about 30 years of age.

A BELL'S BIG CATCH. Ex-Governor English of Connecticut Engaged to a Beautiful Brooklyn Lady. By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., September 22.—During the week it has been the gossip that ex-Gov. John E. English of this city was soon to marry a young Brooklyn lady. During the early part of the summer Governor English, following his usual custom, went to Saratoga for a month and stopped at the Grand Union Hotel. Among the ladies at the hotel was Miss Morris, a beautiful and well-to-do young woman, and she and Governor English became very well acquainted. She is a beautiful, fashionable woman of 30, and is described as being very prepossessing. Governor English is now in his 75th year, but his three-quarters of a century have not robbed his fine figure of its manliness, and he is to-day one of the most strikingly appearing men in the State. It was not long after Miss Morris and the ex-Governor met, that the story runs, the latter became deeply interested in the Brooklyn lady, and she in return, having looked upon her distinguished friend with great favor. They are now in the hotel, and have been seen together at every dinner of importance at Saratoga. It was rumored that Governor English had proposed to Miss Morris, but it is not true. It is said that the Governor is now in New Haven people were there, and the Governor is in little doubt that the story is true. It is said that Miss Morris went to Saratoga with her family. A reporter who recently called on him the Governor.

THE SILVER CHIEF TRAGEDY. Further Particulars of the Murder of Mrs. Keefe by Mrs. O'Neill. By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.

FITZPATRICK, PA., September 22.—The following additional particulars of the tragedy at Silver Creek, published in the Post-Dispatch yesterday, are learned: Sunday night Mrs. O'Neill returned from a christening in the neighborhood where she had been since early in the morning, and where she had indulged freely in liquor. Mrs. Keefe, nearly 60 years of age, but being an African, looked younger, and was still handsome. Mrs. O'Neill, though married three years, had no children, and was jealous of the old woman, whom she accused of stealing her husband's affection. She quarreled with her husband at the christening and went home at once and found Mrs. Keefe sitting on the doorstep of their little log cabin. What followed can only be conjectured. Mrs. O'Neill, however, that Mrs. O'Neill seized a kitchen knife and coming up behind Mrs. Keefe, she seized her face beyond recognition, and severed the head from the body. Then with her hair flowing behind her, she ran to a neighbor's house with blood on her face and on her hands. The ghastly revelation was made in the morning. Mrs. O'Neill was found lying on the ground, and was found dead. She was found with a knife in her hand, and was found with a knife in her hand. She was found with a knife in her hand, and was found with a knife in her hand.

AN HONORED GUEST.

The Anticipated Visit of Vice-President Hendricks During Fair Week.

The Mayor Waiting to Hear When He Will Arrive—Preparations for His Reception—Courtesy of the Merchants' Exchange and Fair Association Extended to Him—A Rousing Reception Anticipated—Secretary Endicott May Also Visit the City.

St. Louis will soon have the honor of entertaining one of the most distinguished guests, although this fact seems scarcely to have been fully realized in the preparations for the fair and the events of the autumnal gala week. The occasion this year will be graced by the presence of Vice-President Hendricks, and in all probability of Mrs. Hendricks, also of Secretary Endicott. The presence of the two great names is not certain, but it is believed that they will visit the city during Fair Week. The Vice-President is expected to arrive on Saturday, September 27, and to remain in the city until Sunday, September 28, when he will depart for Indianapolis. The Mayor is waiting to hear when he will arrive, and is making preparations for his reception. The Merchants' Exchange and Fair Association have extended to him the courtesy of a rousing reception, and a rousing reception is anticipated. Secretary Endicott may also visit the city.

The Vice-President is expected to arrive on Saturday, September 27, and to remain in the city until Sunday, September 28, when he will depart for Indianapolis. The Mayor is waiting to hear when he will arrive, and is making preparations for his reception. The Merchants' Exchange and Fair Association have extended to him the courtesy of a rousing reception, and a rousing reception is anticipated. Secretary Endicott may also visit the city.

St. Louis will soon have the honor of entertaining one of the most distinguished guests, although this fact seems scarcely to have been fully realized in the preparations for the fair and the events of the autumnal gala week. The occasion this year will be graced by the presence of Vice-President Hendricks, and in all probability of Mrs. Hendricks, also of Secretary Endicott. The presence of the two great names is not certain, but it is believed that they will visit the city during Fair Week. The Vice-President is expected to arrive on Saturday, September 27, and to remain in the city until Sunday, September 28, when he will depart for Indianapolis. The Mayor is waiting to hear when he will arrive, and is making preparations for his reception. CHILDREN'S CLOTHES.

Attractive Fall Costumes for Little

And the Pretty Toilet. Which Will be Worn by Their Elder Sisters—Newmarkets a Prime Favorite and Newmarket Cloth All the Rage—Combination Suits and How They Will Be Built.

As soon as the toddler steps out of the long robes, for which the fashion never changes, she begins to make acquaintance with the pinks and vanities of this wicked world. Everything for children this season is very pretty and very expensive. For little creatures of one year old up to three or four, a great deal of plush is shown; the prettiest for the street (or for house when visitors are around) are plushes in rich dark colors, made in Mother Hubbard fashion. They come in dark wines, dark blues, rich bright crimson, and in a new shade named "Marie Louise," which just hits the happy medium between dark and light blue, displaying very bright yet soft and sweet shades of azure. These little toilettes are handsomely trimmed with the richest white lace about two inches wide, which is gracefully fastened in a double row down the front, carried round the border of a deep collar or cape, and finished on the sleeves. Among the lace trims are French and English embroidery. Honiton point and Forchion. The little dresses are generally drawn somewhat back and finished off in the rear with a large pearl or steel or fancy buckle to match the buttons, which are large. A strictly out-door dress for babies is shown in embroidered merino. Mother Hubbard shape, lined with cotton flannel or quilted satin. This comes in all shades and colors, one of the prettiest being in white cashmere, embroidered all over with pale blue pique spots about the size of vest buttons. This has round sleeves and a deep cape trimmed with rich embroidery. The garment should be worn over an embroidered skirt a shade longer than the dress, so that the blouse comes below and finishes off the hem with tasteful effect. Little Gretchen toilettes are also very much worn by children of all ages. For infants and toddlers they have short waists, and long skirts with curious sleeves very tight above the elbow and puffed high on the shoulder. There are straps across the front from the waist up, and at each strap a gold or silver button. They are made in all materials, colors and styles. All these little garments, although they scarcely cost two yards of material, manage to foot up a very respectable price, $15 to $18 being about the figure.

OLDEN GIRLS.

From 5 to 10 or 12 years of age, may choose between all sorts of pretty and tasteful garments for the coming season. Perhaps the most fashionable, though, are the Gretchen and Gretchen suits. Princess plaids and Fedora styles come very close behind. The former is most used for combination suits. Indeed, the combination of two shades or materials will be as fashionable for children as for adults this year. The Gretchen dress is a large short waist, wide-plaited skirt and a deep front set in narrow folds to waist. A comfortable and home wear is a large all-over Scotch plaid made in princess style, and trimmed with wide military braids, and at the waist is a large buckle matching the buttons. This little costume has a very rich and refined appearance, besides being almost everlasting and warm and comfortable for cold weather. Another pretty costume comes in the Fedora style in any color. The one alluded to is a mixture of silver-gray and dark-blue. There is an over-jacket fastened by one button on the chest. The laces of the Fedora overpiece is gathered and a large bow finishes off the back. Another style is tailor-made. With an overdress like a gentleman's frock coat. Square, oval and bullet-shaped tails will be extensively used as a convenience to the overdress for children of all ages.

TAILOR TWEETS TO EXTREME.

Years of age will perceive gathered more than any other material. Everything for these older children in heavy goods will be tailor-made and very plain. Combinations, especially in plaids, will be worn a good deal; in fact, the styles for girls of 12 years are much the same as those for boys. Some pretty styles are displayed as follows: Tailor-made trousers, in a combination of solid material and plaid and the trousers in half a dozen line lines of alternating shades—pale blue, red, brown, etc. The overdress terminates in large, bullet-shaped tails, and the Fedora front is a deep, dark crimson silk, contrasting very tastefully with the pale fawn shade of the combination. A plain, gray flannel combination with a deep crimson in the same material. The most beautiful dresses for girls are a combination of deep magenta or wine colored plush with satin, the body of the dress being plush, the trimming satin. The costumes are lined throughout with the latter material, with sometimes a Fedora front or coat shaped overdress. When this ornament is absent an equally pretty decoration is a deep falling collar bordered by rich white Torsion. Steel or pearl buttons in large fancy shapes complete the outfit.

About cloaks little need be said, since there is only one style for girls of ten years old and upwards, and that is the Newmarket. Something new is shown in this line which, however, is not very pretty. It consists of a plain Newmarket cloak surmounted by a round jacket-shaped collar. The back is plain. The neck is as well as prettiest style in children's cloaks is the plain cuffs. For little girls of five and six and seven years old, a pretty cloak in crimson plush made in the Newmarket shape and finished with a long bow of ribbon at the neck is shown. The material, for Newmarkets, however, is imported from England. The cloak is lined with a high shoulder and sleeves has gone right out of fashion, and will not be worn at all. A double cape, however, is permissible without wings, but it will not be extensively worn.
